Mr. Henry T. Coates, jr., of the firm of Porter & Coates, has revised and enlarged his "Fireside Encyclopædia of Poetry," which will be reissued soon, cyclopædia of Poetry," which will be reissued soon, ing; best of city reference; no cards. 101 West 26th-st., first floor. The new book of sermons by the Rev. Phillips

Brooks, entitled, "Candle of the Lord" (E. P. Dutton & Co.), which is the subject of the first sermon, is now ready at the bookstores. The volume contains twenty-one discourses.

A "Charles Dickens Birthday Book" will be issued by J. B. Lippencott & Co. in October, in connection with the London publishers. It will be quarto in size, and illustrated by full-page engravings by Mrs. Perugini, the novelist's daughter.

The London correspondent of The American Bookseller learns that Mr. Tennyson has finished a new play which will be produced by Mr. Irving, at the Lyceum Theatre, where "The Cup," his last drama, had some success. Mr. Tennyson is said to be sensitive about having his lines cut out to fit the necessities of stage representation.

The striking thing about St. Nicholas for October is the great variety, freshuess and fine pictorial quality of the illustrations. The reading matter is also exceedingly good and contains something that certainly will delight every imaginable boy and girl of almost any age. Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge contributes a pathetic story of "Trapper Joe," who rescued two lost children in the far West. Mr. Frank J. Stockton, whose farry stories are always fanciful and humorous, has an excellent one in this number called "The Castle of Bim," which is illustrated by E. B. Bensell. A wonder story, "Thor and the Giant Skrymir," by Julia C. Jones, is illustrated by Alfred Brennan. "The Adventures of Cocquelicot," a cat, are related by Susan Femmore Cooper and illustrated in silhouette by Mr. Hopkins. Among the poems are a quaint description of an Italian girl, "Little Assunta," by Celia Thaxter, "The Boy who Played Truant" by Alice W. Brotherton, and humorous verses on "The Crow's Nest" by Margaret Johnson, which with the pictures cover five pages.

MINES AND MINING.

TUESDAY, Sept. 27-P. M. The features of to-day's mining stock markets were the dealings in, and advances for, the Com stock shares. A large business was done in Consolidated Virginia at from 2.80 up to 3.30@3.20 against 2.30-Saturday's last figures. California rose to 1.20. Sierra Nevada was active with an advance to 2612 @26. Union Consolidated sold at 16, and Mexican at 13, and Sutro was higher at 1.70@1.60. The State Lines were weak; 2 and 3 declined to 3.85, 1 and 4 to 89 cents, and Oriental and Miller to 812 S2 cents. Among the Leadvilles, Chrysolite was strong up to 8.24, Big Pittsburg was quiet and steady at 1.25, Little Chief at 1.35, and Iron Silver at 2.45. Robinson Consolidated was active and steady at about 1358, Silver Cliff again declined to 2.90. The low-price stocks were neglected, but such transactions as there were showed a steady movement. The markets closed generally strong,

The work of starting up the new hoisting works of the Highland Chief mine is still delayed for want of the main pieces of the pump. This is an unforseen delay and is retarding the work of opening up the mine. As soon as the pieces arrive the work will be pushed and the mine developed with all speed. It is considered one of the best mines in the district and will probably turn out a large quantity of builton this fall and winter. The new Highland Chief 40-stamp mill will be ready to run in about three weeks. It is an immense structure, and is put up in a very substantial manstructure, and is put up in a very substantial man

Oriental superintendent reports, September 16, that the timbering of No. 1 shaft of the Hillside mine has been finished and sinking resumed. The ledge is solid and increasing in size. A crosscut at the bottom of the Eliis shaft shows a vein over 7 feet wide between the walls, 2 feet of which, on the hanging wall, are very rich. No change in South Din.

Miller superintendent reports, September 16 that Keystone drift and shaft are both in good ore. The drift has been advanced 19 feet. Thabering has been finished and sinking resumed. The ledge is gradually getting wider as the shaft goes down. Work on the other mines is advancing favorably. Gold Stripe superintendent reports that a full force of miners is at work in the mine. Good headway is being made in the Lawrence tunnel, which will intersect the ledge at a considerable depth. The work in the lower Goodwin tunnel raise to strike the vent that yielded very largely in No. 1 and No. 2 tunnels, is being pushed. In the main mine the Mullen drift is yielding sufficient ore to supply the large mill. Considerable development work is being done in the most important parts of the mine.

Mineral Creek superintendent reports, September 16, that he believes the Indian tromble about over for the present, and thinks he can get the men to resume work on the mine in a few days. Both mine and mill are good, and when fairly in operation excellent work will be done.

Standard Consolidated official report, September 17, shows that the shaft is down 1,072 feet, the bottom being hard ground. The cast crossent, 1,000-level, is in from the shaft 403 feet, and the west crossent, same level, 317 feet. The total length of the south drift from the east crossent, 700-level, is 175 feet. The total length of the west crossent from the south drift, 500-level, is 143 feet; the ground here is very hard. TUESDAY, Sept. 27-P. M.

The dash and boldness with which the "bulls" this morning took possession of the stock market, after the two days' holiday, and the adroitness with which for the first two hours they managed to advance prices, are qualities that challenged the admiration of all observers. The disappointment of speculators for the "long" account at the little relief to the money market there is to be expected from the Treasury's announced programme was acknowledged, and the "bears" were sanguine of a drop in prices without an effort on their part to prodrop in prices without an effort on their part to produce it. The "bulls," however, were on the alert, and before the "bears" had gathered their wits together had executed a complete surprise. Prices instead of drooping were rising, and in not a few instances the advance was accelerated by the surrender of "shorts" and a covering of contracts. Early it was known that it was foreordained that the dividend on Lake Shore was to be 2 per cent, and the report was generally credited. But it was hard for speculators, at the same time, to believe that if Lake Shore had duce it. The "bulls," however, were on the alert, earned 2 per cent Michigan Central earned 2 per cent Michigan Central had earned none. But the faith in the Lake Shore dividend materially aided, not only its own price, but those of the general market Another special help of the market was the good buying of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western to 1294, and it was a buying that probably has nothing to do with the general manipulation of the market; yet the stock was bought to be carried a margins and not for investment. Lake Shore and up to 12712 and Michigan Central to 9438 before the official announcement of the action of the directors of the respective companies was made. The action of the Michigan Central Company is told in the following preamble and resolution which are given out for publication:
